Compatriots and my Brothers All:

We had a very special guest at our meeting. The West Virginia Division Commander Earnest Blevins was working in the area and looked up our Camp info and came and visited our meeting. He shared his knowledge of the fight to save the Reconciliation Monument. Brother Pete shared his training from the Texas Heritage Defense training. We had a busy month helping with the markers dedication at the Hallsville Cemetery a very nice event. We need to go and do some tombstone cleaning of our CSA Vets there. Well As I was working on this newsletter I got an text from Brother Frank Crisp asking if I knew there was a for lease sign at the Dinner Belle. I thought it was an April Fools prank. Well it was note a prank. I contacted Mrs. April and she said she was going to call me and let me know she has shut down. So that outright is a low blow to us. So I am working to find us a new location. We will be checking out who will be willing to have us use their meeting room. Keep your fingers crossed, and say a prayer for our success. We will overcome this setback. Come and hear the man who is in line to be our next CinC.

Bill Elliott, Commander, at your service.

Hometown Heroes: Captain Orren Perry Forrest, Hallsville Cemetery

Orren Perry Forrest, the son of Elisha and Sarah Vincent Forrest, was born June 13, 1827 at Gideonsville in Bedford County, Tennessee. It is said the Forrest family, along with other families, started west in 1844. The spent at least a year in Arkansas and arrived in the Hallsville area of Harrison County in 1846. The Forrest family, including Orren, appeared in the 1850 Harrison County Census. Elisha listed his occupation as farmer, with $1000 in assets. It stated in Orren's 1903 obituary that he came to Hallsville in 1846.

Orren Perry Forrest, an adventurous young man, came to Texas in his teen years and fought in the Mexican War with Col. Jack Hayes' Mounted Volunteers, one of the roughest, toughest units at the time. They were feared by the Mexicans and disliked by the regular Army. They would not adhere to any discipline, would not salute, would not wear uniforms, but they had a reputation for being fierce fighters. This is where Orren obtained his first military experience. Orren enlisted in Captain E.M. Daggett's Company I of the First Texas Regiment of Mounted Volunteers on March 20, 1847, at Austin, to serve for a period of 12 months in the war with Mexico. He was 19 years old, almost 20. He was five feet, 10inches tall with blue eyes, light hair, and light complexion. He listed his occupation as a farmer. Orren's Company fought in battles of Buena Vista, Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, and various other minor engagements. Orren was mustered out with his Company as a private on May 1, 1848 near Vera Cruz, Mexico; He did have one bad spell of typhoid fever and partially lost his hearing in his left ear because of it. When Orren left Mexico, he came back to East Texas through Shreveport, LA., probably by steamboat at least part of the way. He had his discharge papers stolen from his trunk in Shreveport on May 15, 1848 and he had to get a letter from Capt. Daggett, certifying that he did serve during the Mexican War.

Orren Perry Forrest's relationship to General Nathan Bedford Forrest was that they were first cousins once removed; Orren's father Elisha was a brother to William who was Nathan's father. Orren Forrest enlisted in the Confederate Army on Oct. 1, 1861 in Marshall; He mustered in as a First Lieutenant, for a period of three years by John Gregg. He joined Company H. known as the Texas Invincibles, under Captain W.B. Hill of the 7th Regiment, Texas Infantry, Granbury's Brigade. The 7th was also known as "Gregg's" Regiment Texas Infantry, Most of the Harrison County men fought in the battles of Ft. Donnelson, Tennessee and Arkansas Post. Captain Hill of the Texas Invincibles was killed at Ft. Donnelson and Lt. Orren P. Forrest took over the company as Captain. When Ft. Donnelson was surrendered to the Yankees, Captain Forrest was taken prisoner with the rest of the forces there on Feb. 16, 1862 and received at Camp Chase, Ohio on March 1, 1862.

Captain Forrest was transferred to Johnson Island near Sandusky Ohio on April 10, 1862. His promotion to Captain was effective Feb. 15, 1862, one day prior to the fall of Ft. Donnelson and his capture made for the move to Johnson Island was a prison camp exclusively for officers and it was not as bad as the other POW Camps. Capt. Forrest was sent to Vicksburg, MS. in a prisoner exchange on Sept. 1, 1862. Eleven Hundred and four prisoners were declared exchanged at Aikens Landing, VA. on Nov. 10, 1862. The 7th Texas Infantry Regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 49th and 55th (Brown's) Regiments Tennessee Infantry from Oct. 8, 1862 until about Feb. 10, 1863 and formed Bailey's Consolidated Regiment. During the Vicksburg Campaign, General Grant sent an Army towards Jackson, MS. to destroy the Confederate Forces in that area that were building up under General Joseph E. Johnston to join forces with General Pemberton to attack the Union Forces around Vicksburg. Grant's Army encountered a Confederate brigade on May 12, 1863 at Raymond, MS. under General John Gregg, and after some sharp fighting, drove it towards Jackson. Capt. Orren Forrest was wounded at this battle at Raymond. General Gregg, in his report after the battle, said Capt. O.P. Forrest fell in retreat, I do not know the nature of his injury. The Confederates were heavily out number. The wounded Confederates were placed in the Courthouse in Raymond and the wounded Yankees in a Church across the street. On May 14, 1863 Grant's forces captured Jackson. The Company Muster Roll, for July and August 1863 show Capt. O.P. Forrest as "wounded at Raymond, MS. May 12, 1863, now in hospital. The Muster Roll for Sept. and Oct. and the one for Nov. and Dec. of 1863 show him wounded at Raymond, MS., on furlough at Harrison County. There was no record on file to indicate any further services after he was wounded.

The only pay records in Capt. O.P. Forrest file indicated that he was paid $90 a month as a lieutenant, and $120 a month as a captain. No other pay records are shown after October 1862. Orren Perry Forrest returned to his farm in Harrison County and resumed his life as a farmer after the war. He married Cordelia Ann Murphey on July 28th, 1881. Orren was 54 years old when he married and Cordelia was 23, some 31 years younger than he. Orren and Cordelia had five children: Illa Mae born in 1882, Annie Laurie 1883, Gertrude born in 1885, Nathan Bedford in 1887 and Lawson Perry born in 1893. Orren intended to name his first son Lawson Perry but the ladies of Hallsville made him a little Confederate uniform and insisted that he was "Little Nathan Bedford Forrest" so Lawson Perry came later.

Orren Forrest appeared to have considerable health problems in his later years. On July 17, 1883 he had his right leg crushed from the ankle to the knee in a saw mill carriage. He also suffered a badly damaged left hand from the accidental discharge of a shotgun. These injures rendered him unable to do farm work and the family subsisted on what rent he received from about 30 acres of land and his pension of $8 a month. Orren wrote in a letter requesting an increase in his pension, that he was "dependent on either Negroes or such white men as I can get to cultivate my land bringing me fifty or seventy five dollars or maybe bringing me nothing that is according to what sort of renters I get and whether they are of any account" Orren's daughter, Annie Laurie, told her daughter Ann about her grandfather many times, Ann said she was told the captain used to love to tell stories of his interesting life and always had a group of neighborhood children as well as his own around when he had time. He also used to sing songs and one of his daughter's favorites was one he said the Civil War Soldiers used to sing, called "Shoo-Lie-Loo." Ann once said, "I wish I had gotten to know this gentle man" Orren Forrest was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Hallsville when he died on October 31, 1903, after a lingering illness. His father in law, Sidney Brown Murphey, an old friend, was at his bedside when he died. Orren led a very adventurous life as a young man, worked hard as a farmer between wars, and settled down to marry and raise a family late in life..

How Do I Join The Sons of Confederate Veterans?

The SCV is the direct heir of the United Confederate Veterans. Organized at Richmond, Virginia in 1896, the SCV continues to serve as a historical, patriotic, and non-political organization dedicated to ensuring that a true history of the 1861-1865 period is preserved. Membership in the Sons of Confederate Veterans is open to all male descendants of any veteran who served honorably in the Confederate armed forces. Membership can be obtained through either lineal or collateral family lines and kinship to a veteran must be documented genealogically. The minimum age for full membership is 12, but there is no minimum for Cadet Membership.
